As shown in the cross section through the pressure vessel of Fig. 1, universal head 40 and elliptical head have a similar elliptical shaped dome. However, the securing plate 80 doesn't follow the contour of the dome and it is not believed that the securing plate 80 has an elliptical shape. Figure 3 discloses that plate member 80 has an outer periphery having an undulating shape with both convex and concave curves has viewed from a perspective radially outwardly of the plate member. An ellipse has only convex curves. No one could decipher by looking at Fig. 3 that the curvatures of plate member 80 are elliptical or even partly elliptical.

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1, 4-5, 9-11 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Claim 1 states that the securing plate member 80 has an elliptical shape. This is not supported by the original specification. This is a new matter rejection.

Applicant's arguments filed December 11, 2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant states that the elliptical shape of the plate member 80 is clear. It is not clear. Furthermore, Figure 3 is a perspective view. It would be extremely difficult to state with certainty that any portion is a specific shape without a corresponding plan view or some other corresponding information. For example, the tubular boss 81 with internally threaded portion 83 would be considered generally circular or cylindrical because the threads would not function if this part was oblong in horizontal cross section. The external periphery of the plate member 80 is clearly an undulating shape with both convex and concave curves has viewed from a perspective radially outwardly of the plate member. An ellipse has only convex curves. No one could decipher by looking at Fig. 3 that the curvatures of plate member 80 are elliptical or even partly elliptical.

All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the application prior to the entry of the submission under 37 CFR 1.114 and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the application prior to entry under 37 CFR 1.114. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action after the filing of a request for continued examination and the submission under 37 CFR 1.114. See MPEP § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
